Storm Stalls Cars in Mountain Areas

Foot of Snow Is Reported at Pine Hill and Fleischmanns

Cars and trucks were reported in trouble at various places about the county this morning as roads were covered with a wet sleety snow that struck Kingston some time before 5 o'clock, but hit the mountain sections some hours earlier.

A report at the sheriff's office said that there was around a foot of snow in the Pine Hill-Fleischmanns area with varying depths in other sections of the county. In

O.P.A. Would Boost Output of Furniture; Prices Gain

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—O.P.A. today announced a plan designed to increase production of relatively low and medium-priced furniture.

Scheduled to go into effect next year, the program provides for manufacturers' price increases from 4 to 20 per cent for roughly two-thirds of various types of home furniture each firm produced during March 1942.

There has been no decision yet whether the public will have to pay more.

It all depends, said an O.P.A. statement, on the outcome of conferences to determine how much of the manufacturers' increase, if any, can be absorbed by wholesalers and retailers.

O.P.A. said that from March 1942 to September 1945, prices of household goods paid for new furniture increased about 25 per cent, while the overall cost of living climbed 13 per cent.

The furniture price boost carried even though manufacturers

President Favors Parley

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—President Truman expressed belief today that executives of the General Motors Corporation should sit down and talk over a wage dispute with representatives of striking C.I.O. unionists. He gave this opinion at a news conference after a reporter asked him about similar discussions between the Automobile and the War Relocation Authority and the War Relocation Authority.

The Automobile and the War Relocation Authority, a reporter said, suggested that the General Motors executives sit down and talk with the strikers. He asked Mr. Truman whether he thought that would be a good idea. The President replied: "I do."

Bennett, Nadal Get Auto Agency, DeSoto, Plymouth

Will Carry on Business as Willyway Motors; Both Experienced in Automobiles

John A. Bennett of 285 Washington avenue and Ramon Nadal of 148 Henry street, Kingston, doing business as Willyway Motors at 112-118 North Front street, have been appointed DeSoto-Plymouth dealers for the city of Kingston. Both men are well known in Kingston and have been in the automobile business for years.

Alterations are now being made to the premises and when these changes are completed Willyway Motors will have one of the most complete service and parts departments in the city with attractive show rooms for display of both Plymouth and DeSoto cars. The service department will be easily accessible and laid out for the greatest efficiency, with completely new equipment installed for all types of maintenance and repair work. A large stock of factory engineered and approved parts will be maintained to provide for complete servicing of customer's cars.

Ramon Nadal has been a life long resident of Kingston and for 15 years was employed by John R. Arborio, Poughkeepsie contractor, as a general manager. He has had experience in the automobile business and is well known throughout this locality.

John A. Bennett, who resides at 285 Washington avenue, has long been identified with the motor car business. For several years he was identified with the local Dodge-Plymouth agency on central Broadway where he served as branch manager for John Van Benschoten and in 1933 when Mr. Van Benschoten gave up the Ulster county territory, Mr. Bennett went to Poughkeepsie where for the next seven years he was sales manager for Mr. Van Benschoten.

In 1940 Mr. Bennett became vice-president and general manager for Poughkeepsie Packard, Inc., handling Packard and Nash cars, and he also served as president and general manager of Van Benschoten Motor Car Company of Poughkeepsie.

When alterations to the premises on North Front street are completed, the new cars will be placed on display for inspection by the public.

Marshall's Final Warning to Short Is Reported to Congress; Message Was Sent by Commercial Cable to Hawaii

Steelworkers Vote Strike To Enforce $2 Wage Demand

Price's Report May Bring Changes in American Rule

'Hard-Peace Plan' Would Be Rewritten Into General Principles for Guidance

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—A drastic revision of American policy in Germany is expected by diplomatic officials to result from Byron Price's report to President Truman on the potential failure of present German administration.

One result of any such change may be to eliminate to a great extent the remaining influence of Henry Morgenthau, Jr., over German control policy.

With his "Morgenthau plan"—a so-called hard-peace plan—the former secretary of the treasury had great influence in the writing of the basic German policy directive. This is the directive known as J.C.S. 1067—under which the American Military Government in Germany functioned originally and from which it still draws considerable authority even though the Big Three declaration at Potsdam is now the basic guide.

Price recommended that J.C.S. 1067 be rewritten "into a few hundred words of general principles."

He said its detailed provisions "fall with untold force upon General Eisenhower's officers, now long experienced in the actual business of dealing with the Germans."

As part of his program for bringing orders into line with experience, Price proposed that there should be some provision for slowing down the process of demobilization when men of small position in industry are concerned.

Persons familiar with the original policy planning here credit Morgenthau with insistence on ruthless elimination of all Nazis at all levels. Price did not oppose this but suggested that more time might be taken to accomplish it.

Mr. Truman's special emissary also laid emphasis on the need to increase German production to a

Eisenhower Raps French Hampering

General Says Allies Were Stymied by French in Germany

Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 29 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower in a report released here today, criticized the French government for hampering the Allied Control Council and urged early establishment of central Germany administrative machinery.

Summarizing the situation in Germany in October, before he left to become chief of staff of the U. S. Army, Eisenhower cited the "potential dangers of unrest and disease this winter."

He declared, however, there was "no immediate emergency in the American and British zones as long as current rations can be maintained."

The release followed by a day the White House disclosure of a report to President Truman by Byron Price, former co-sponsor of the Morgenthau plan, director of the occupation difficulties.

Praising the British delegation for going along in council matters for the sake of unanimity, Eisenhower asserted:

"There was no similar solution of the deadlock which prevents establishment of the central German administrative machinery provided for by the Potsdam agreement as necessary for a single economic unit. French authorities in October maintained their opposition to this principle. Only in November were there indications of progress."

"On a number of other important matters, moreover, little progress was made during the month. A proposed law to authorize and encourage a federation of German trade unions on a national basis was rejected."

Union Is Given Right to Call Nationwide Walkout; Returns Are in From Hundreds of Polling Places

Strikes-at-a-Glance (By The Associated Press)

540,000 workers are idle in the nation's labor disputes. Major developments: Steel—C.I.O. steelworkers, seeking $2 pay raise, vote strike authorization.

Automobiles—Government officials "hopeful" that C.I.O. Auto Workers and General Motors will resume negotiations of wage dispute that has stalled production in 70 G.M. plants.

Textiles—7,000 C.I.O. textile workers return to six Maine cotton mills after signing contract with operators.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 29 (AP)—Officials of the C.I.O.-United Steel Workers of America held in their hands today authority to call a nationwide strike to enforce their demand for a $2 a day pay raise.

The power was given by members of their union who voted in a National Labor Relations Board election yesterday, favoring a strike nearly five to one.

Unofficial, incomplete returns to the N.L.R.B. from hundreds of polling places in 27 states showed the workers voting 342,125 for, only 70,639 against a strike.

There was no indication a strike would be called immediately or even in the near future.

Officials of the U.S.W.A. told their local leaders before the voting that a favorable ballot did not necessarily mean there would be a strike.

Workers were cautioned against any premature work stoppage and were informed the authority for a strike rests with the National Wage Policy Committee and the Executive Board.

The election was the greatest N.L.R.B. vote ever undertaken in the United States, involving 766 plants and some 650,000 workmen, many thousands of whom did not cast ballots.

The vote was called for by the union after the steel companies declared that they could not grant a $2 a day pay boost without a raise in steel prices, which the O.P.A. refused.

The story was the same in every state, an overwhelming majority for the strike authorization.

Complete returns from Pennsylvania, greatest steel producer in the nation, with an annual output of about 30,000,000 tons, voted 161,512 for, 36,817 against.

The steeling mills of Ohio produced a 69,696 to 14,923 return for the strike authorization.

New York steelworkers plumped for a walkout by about 40,000 to 7,000 votes.

In Arkansas, a single plant with 38 workers voting, gave the strike a thumping 37 to 1 approval.

The smallest majority, about 2 to 1, was recorded by 3,000 steelworkers in Colorado.

Yesterday's balloting involved employees at all plants of "Little Steel" and "Big Steel," numerous independents not included in either groups, as well as aluminum workers who more than a year ago became members of the U.S.W.A.

Aluminum workers voted for the strike in about the same ratio as steelworkers.

Le Cemetery Gets Caretaker Status

Manila, Nov. 29 (AP)—The cemetery where Ernie Pyle and 400 American soldiers are buried on tiny Ilo Island, off Okinawa, will be placed on caretaker status February 1. The last of more than 40,000 air force personnel will be evacuated from Ilo by that date.

Headquarters of Army Forces in the Western Pacific announced. Only a few army caretakers will remain.

The headquarters announced that the island's mass of American-built airstrips have been specially surfaced to preserve them for "possible future use." It added that civilians would not be allowed to return to the island.

The army also announced discontinuance of garrisons at Agaña, Rota, Iloilo, Kume and Agaña, also of the Okinawa group, effective December 1.

'Beatrice Fairfax' Dies

Truman Says Big 3 Need Not Meet If U. N. O. Works

President Would Have United Nations Group Do Its Work; Cities Harm to League

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—President Truman said today he saw no need for any more Big Three conferences if the United Nations Organization works as it should.

Asked at a news conference whether revisions in Allied control policy and machinery for Germany might require a meeting of himself, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee, Mr. Truman said he was not in favor of special conferences.

He wants the United Nations to do its job, he added, asserting he remembers that the League of Nations was ruined by special conferences.

The President stated he hoped the United Nations would take over within the next 90 days all the problems previously worked out by Big Three meetings.

In his discussion of foreign policy Mr. Truman also developed these points:

He does not share either the fear which he said some persons in the country hold that Russia will not cooperate toward world peace or that Russia's policies will lead to war. He was very emphatic in stating he did not share any such fears.

At a later date, the President will discuss fully the international situation, particularly as it involves efforts of the nations to cooperate for peace. The discussion may be at a news conference.

Negotiations are now under way among the Allies ruling Germany for a revision of the Potsdam Declaration on Germany in some respects. Chiefly, the United States is seeking a modification of the arrangement which requires unanimous agreement among this government, Russia, France and Britain before any decisions can be made by the Allied Control Council in Berlin. This effort at revision grows out of Byron Price's report on the possible failure of American aims and policies in Germany.

Gen. George C. Marshall, the President's special envoy to China, probably will leave for Chungking in three or four days and the instructions which he is finally given may be published. They are yet to be worked out, although Mr. Truman said that Marshall's basic job would be to carry out the policies which we've always had in China.

The resignation of Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley from the China post reached his desk formally only this morning, the President said. Hurley was there two days ago with a blast at American "career diplomats." Mr. Truman declined to comment on the Hurley criticisms.

Buck Purchases Cashin Building

East Strand Property Will Be Used for Rag Grading Plant

A. H. Buck, who has been engaged in the trucking business in Kingston for a number of years, on Wednesday took title to the old Cashin building, a four-story brick structure at East Strand and Hasbrouck avenue. Mr. Buck purchased the property from Claremont R. Morris, local realtor.

Mr. Buck said today it was planned to use the lower floor of the Cashin building for a rag grading plant.

Army Plans Mitchel Field Conference as Veteran Aid

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Take that boy down the street who used to jerk sodas—the one who went off to war and now is a major in the air forces. What's he going to do when he is plain Joe civilian?

The Army Air Forces thinks it has an answer and it offers this thought:

Every community should realize that a kid who can lead a squadron or be a ground crew chief is smart enough to hold down a responsible job in civilian life, even if his pre-war experience adds up to approximately zero.

So the air forces is planning a big pep-up at Mitchel Field, Long Island, N. Y., on December 5. There'll be 400 industry and labor leaders there, as well as such men as Gen. H. H. Arnold, air forces boss, and Gen. Omar Bradley, veterans' administrator.

The air forces will try to peddle this idea:

That America will be making a

Warning Was Delivered Three Hours After Receipt in Hawaii, After Jap Attack

Miles Gave Order

Intelligence Told Short Aide to Check Jap Weather Reports

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall's last minute warning to the Army commander in Hawaii to "be on the alert" for a message delivered after the attack on Pearl Harbor—was laid before Congressional investigators today.

A previous investigation by an Army inquiry board showed that while Marshall called Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines by telephone to warn him on December 7, 1941, he dispatched a message to Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, in command at Honolulu.

This message, which went by commercial cable because the Army's radio facilities were not working properly, was as follows:

"SECRET"

"1549WS WASHINGTON DC 74/ 73 RCA USG ETAT 7 1218P 'C G"

"HAWN DEPT FT SIAFTER TH"

"529 TTH JAPANESE ARE PRESENTING AT ONE PM EASTERN STANDARD TIME TODAY WHAT MOUNTS TO AN ULTIMATUM. ALSO THEY ARE UNDER ORDERS TO DESTROY THEIR CODE MACHINE IMMEDIATELY—STOP—WHAT SIGNIFICANCE THE HOUR SET MAY HAVE WE DO NOT KNOW BUT BE ON ALERT ACCORDINGLY STOP INFORM NAVAL AUTHORITIES OF THIS COMMUNICATION"

"MARSHALL"

The message showed it was dispatched from Washington at 12:18 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. Army investigators learned it was received in Hawaii about 45 minutes later, less than an hour before the attack began at 7:50 a. m., Hawaiian time.

As a result of the attack it was not delivered to Short until about three hours later.

The same file of messages, placed in the record of the Senate House Committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster, disclosed that Brig. Gen. Sherman Miles, acting assistant chief of intelligence in Washington had advised Short's assistant chief of staff on December 5, 1941, to see Commander Rochefort of the Navy commandant's office there immediately "regarding broadcasts from Tokyo reference weather."

Alludes to Code.

This alluded to the code Tokyo had set up to notify its nationals of an impending break with the United States. If the Tokyo radio broadcast "east wind rain" it meant hostilities were imminent, intercepted Japanese code messages showed.

As early as July 8, 1941, the Adjutant General's office, messaged Short that the Japanese had ordered all their vessels in Atlantic ports to be west of the Panama Canal by August 1.

On July 25, the message file showed, Marshall and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, sent a joint communication to Hawaii, the Philippines, the Caribbean Command and the General Chancy in London advising them of the forthcoming embargo on shipments of oil and other products to Japan.

The message said Washington officials "do not anticipate immediate hostile reaction by Japan through the use of military means but you are furnished this information in order that you may take precautionary measures against possible eventualities."

The further possibility that Japan would attack the United States was also mentioned.

Flashes of Life
Sketched in Brief

Legal Housing
Columbia, S. C., Nov. 29 (AP) — Lawyers coming back to Columbia from military service can't find office space, so as a temporary expedient they will be allowed to hang out their shingles outside circuit and county courthouses.

Clerk of Court Clarence Hinant served notice on them, however, that they would have to vacate their "offices" when the courts are in session.

Slim Pickles
Los Angeles, Nov. 29 (AP) — Mrs. Elva Haddow found her dog at the humane shelter when she returned from a trip. Neighbors had complained that the animal was starving but that isn't the story Mrs. Haddow has to offer.

She paid a small boy to feed the dog. The boy had a pet duck and the duck with a fine disdain for the dog's rights, ate the food placed out for the dog.

Lost Loot
San Bernardino, Calif., Nov. 29 — Thieves used an electric hoist to get a 500 pound safe aboard a truck. But when the safe fell off at a downtown intersection, there was no hoist handy.

Disgusted, they left it and the truck—which also was stolen—in the street and fled on foot.

Superstitious?
Salt Lake City, Nov. 29 (AP) — A thief snatched Mathilda Karas' purse which contained, in addition to money, keys and her eyeglasses, five good luck charms, she told police.

Turkey Remnants
Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 29 (AP) — North Dakota celebrates a "bonus" Thanksgiving today.

Legislators had decided the legal holiday should be observed on "the last Thursday in November."

In the same law, it was decreed that any day proclaimed as Thanksgiving "by either or both the President and the Governor" also is a legal holiday. President Truman chose November 22.

EDUCATING CITIZENS

There are 750,000 people living in New York City who do not write or speak English.

While such a startling bit of statistics probably would not apply generally to the country, there are many areas throughout the land using a language other than English.

In large industrial centers nationality groups live in closed communities, read a foreign-language newspaper, attend churches and send their children to schools where to a large extent the mother tongue is used.

This is not undesirable if English is known, too. But great segments of our population carry on all the business of life in an old country language, because they do not know English.

In certain rural sections of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and the southwest the older generation of the fast-growing Amish use only the German dialect employed by this sect, a conservative offshoot of the Mennonites. They are practically all American-born, but their children frequently know no English until they start school. The war's intelligence tests showed that among our English-speaking native stock illiteracy existed to a shocking degree. Men wearing the uniform had to be taught to read and write.

New York is meeting its problem and many related ones by an extensive adult education program in which basic English and general cultural subjects will be taught, as well as hygiene, domestic management, parent training. There will be hobby courses, trips to museums, parks and public culture spots.

Japan and Germany both made their youth and adults into undesirable world citizens by warped and faulty education. The United States can profit by those programs to teach the ways of democracy. But only those who read and write its language can learn the nation's traditions and ideals.

Lindbergh says, "The recent world war could have been avoided." Of course it could, by letting the Germans and Japanese take everything they wanted.

WAR DANGERS

It is generally understood by intelligent men and women that another general war would be the greatest of all disasters. But to many people the peril of small wars is not so clear. Just as "great oaks from little acorns grow," great wars tend to start from trifles, or at least from what seem so at the time. There are usually grievances among nations, as among small groups and individuals. The essential thing, especially in these touchy times, is to keep them from developing.

There is a good old motto which says, "Guard well thy thoughts, for thoughts are heard in heaven." It is even more important in these times to "guard well thy speech." And it might be a good idea, in collaboration with our statesmen and diplomats, to bear this fact in mind as our strange and hardly recognizable modern world rolls on to its unknown destiny. If every thinking person felt that he in his own little corner was responsible in person for the fate of our strange modern world, it would be better for all of us.

One sign that peace is really here will be the return of rubber that crases to the ends of lead pencils.

POETRY

There is a verse in Lowell's "Present Crisis," which is seldom remembered in this age, but certainly applicable to our times. It says simply:

"New occasions teach new duties: time makes ancient good uncouth.

They must upward still, and onward, who would keep abreast of truth."

A modern poet is likely to regard such simple and metrical verse as childish. But at least it "seems," and the even rhyme makes it easy for ordinary people to read and remember. Who is going to remember the vaunted and reckless "free verse" into which this nation sank up to its neck a few years ago, and from which it has not yet recovered?

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

RELIEF OF THE NEEDY

In a previous article I pursued a usual error when I suggested that Governor Lehman's task with U.N.R.R.A. is greater than Herbert Hoover's was during and after the last war. I suppose that I involuntarily assumed that everything today is larger than anything ever was before. We speak of billions so readily and blithely these days that one slips too easily into the false notions that heretofore everything was done on a smaller scale.

Actually, U.N.R.R.A. has functioned in few countries. According to Mr. Lehman, U.N.R.R.A. is now functioning in Greece, Yugoslavia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Albania and China—seven countries. It expects to be permitted to operate in two Soviet Russian provinces, the Ukraine and White Russia—making a total of eight countries.

Herbert Hoover's relief organizations functioned in 20 countries: Armenia, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Danzig, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Yugoslavia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Rumania, Russia, Republican and Soviet, and Great Britain.

Altogether, Hoover's organization supplied, in the post-armistice period, nearly 19,000,000 metric tons of food, of which the United States supplied nearly 18,000,000 metric tons. These figures do not include the tremendous feeding and relief enterprises, including Belgian relief, prior to the armistice.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Hoover's organization was able to make an agreement with Soviet Russia for the feeding of the Russian masses who were then starving. The Riga Agreement, negotiated upon the initiative of Maxim Gorky, was between the American Relief Administration, an unofficial voluntary American charitable organization under the chairmanship of Mr. Herbert Hoover, and the Russian Socialist Federative Soviet Republic. It was strictly American charity.

The first clause of the agreement is interesting in view of the suspicions of today:

"First: That the A.R.A. may bring into Russia such personnel as the A.R.A. finds necessary in the carrying out of its work and the Soviet Authorities guarantee them full liberty and protection while in Russia. Non-Americans and Americans who have been detained in Soviet Russia since 1917 will be admitted on approval by the Soviet authorities."

And these clauses are interesting:

"Eighth: That the relief supplies are intended for children and the sick, as designated by the A.R.A., and remain the property of the A.R.A., until actually consumed by these children and the sick, and are to be distributed in the name of the A.R.A."

"Ninth: That no individual receiving A.R.A. rations shall be deprived of such local supplies as are given to the rest of the population."

"Tenth: That they will guarantee and take every step to insure that relief supplies belonging to the A.R.A. will not go to the general adult population nor to the Army, Navy or Government employees but only to . . . (children and the sick without regard to race, religion or social or political status)."

That Soviet authorities undertake to reimburse the A.R.A. in dollars at a 100-cent rate in kind any misused relief supplies.

There were many money-shines in those days and no fear of hurting the sensibilities of the country on the receiving end. The object was to care for the hungry and needy. In this connection I wish to quote Clause 21 of the Riga Agreement which is pertinent today when soldiers tell of switched labels on goods sent from the American people to the needy of Europe, new labels being put on cans to give the impression that the benefits come from some other country or from nowhere. The Riga Agreement provided:

"Twenty-first: That they will acquit the Russian people with the aims and methods of the relief work of the A.R.A. in order to facilitate the rapid development of its efficiency and will assist and facilitate in supplying the American people with reliable and non-political information of the existing conditions and the progress of the relief work as an aid in developing financial support in America."

And that one about supply information is important at a time when U.N.R.R.A. objects to the provision that American reporters be permitted to see what is happening to American charity. Hoover demanded publicity; Lehman still favors secrecy—secrecy with regard to our money and our food. (Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

MENTAL HYGIENE

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)

It is naturally gratifying that so many babies are now saved at birth and during the first year. It is also a great source of satisfaction to know that with our increasing knowledge of the prevention of former fatal diseases the life span has increased nearly fifteen years since the beginning of 1900.

However the fact that man lives longer now than ever before means that there is an increasing proportion of older individuals in our population. So evident and important is this that in various countries now there is more provision than ever for the care of elderly folks such as old age pensions and medical care and home for the aged.

While the general welfare and medical care of the physical ailments of the aged is important, Dr. S. R. Laycock, Director of the Division on Education and Mental Health National Committee for Mental Hygiene (Canada) in the Canadian Medical Association Journal states that the mental hygiene of later life is most important so that "each individual gives his best to the world and knows the deep satisfaction of a life richly and fully lived."

That physical disabilities in the aged do not greatly affect them mentally is pointed out by Dr. Laycock, but having their needs denied or frustrated does seriously affect them mentally.

What are the psychic or emotional needs of older individuals?

These needs are:

The need for affection. To like and be liked.

The need for belonging. To be a desired and desirable member of a group.

The need for independence. Reasonably to order one's own life and make one's own decisions.

The need for achievement. To do things, to accomplish tasks, to create things and find success.

The need for recognition. To feel that one's personality and conduct meet the reasonable approval of one's peers.

The need for self-esteem. To feel that one's personality and conduct come up reasonably to one's own inner standards.

In other words, starvation of the emotional needs of our older folk is the cause of their mental symptoms.

Neurosis—Involving you have a physical ailment when you have a— is becoming increasingly common. Send today for Dr. Barton's informative booklet on the subject entitled "Neurosis." To obtain it just send ten cents and a three-cent stamp, in cover of handling and mailing, to The King Library, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 92, Station C, New York 33, N. Isn't Peace Grand?

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

When Mayor Walter P. Crane assumed office on January 1, 1922, he advocated the consolidation of the positions of city engineer and superintendent, but the idea was voted down by the Board of Public Works at its annual meeting that month.

Later, three of the members of the board resigned, and the mayor appointed John Hiltbrandt, William H. Van Elten and Frank B. Matthews to succeed them. The three who resigned were David Burgevine, Alva S. Stuyvesant and Samuel M. Watts.

When the reorganized board met on February 17, 1922, the mayor's recommendation was adopted, and Henry D. Darrow was named to fill the consolidated post of city engineer and superintendent, at a salary of $3,000 a year.

The board also appointed Simon Winchell as assistant secretary to succeed John J. Linson, who had held the position since the board was first organized.

W. Scott Van Keuren, who had been serving as superintendent, and under the act of the board in consolidating his post with that of city engineer, was to retire on March 1, did not wait until then but turned his keys over to his assistant, Frank Mills.

Mr. Van Keuren served as superintendent during the years that Palmer Canfield was mayor.

Mrs. Gerard W. Betz was appointed a member of the Board of Education on March 16, 1922, by Mayor Crane to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Joseph M. Schaeffer.

Mr. Schaeffer, who had been serving as cashier of the State of New York National Bank, over a long period of years, died on March 1, 1922, aged 65 years. He had spent practically his entire business life with the bank, commencing his duties there while a youth as a clerk.

For a number of years he was a trustee and secretary of the Ulster County Savings Institution, and had served as treasurer of the Ulster County Branch of the Red Cross.

Fraternally he was a Mason and a member of Kingston Lodge. He was also interested in local fireman affairs and served as a trustee of Whitwick Hose Co. He was serving as a member of the education board at the time of his death.

Russell P. Clayton was elected to fill the post of cashier at the bank to succeed Mr. Schaeffer.

The Kingston High School students on February 17, 1922, presented the opera "Yanki Sar" in the school auditorium with great success.

In the cast were Clara Slaughter, Alice McLaughlin, Catharine McCormick, Helen Goldwasser, Melba Simmons, Winifred Lowe, Nellie Flinnigan, Gladys Reynolds.

Agatha Flick, Marion Coleclough, Estelle Rogers, Eva Rand, Elizabeth Art, Mary Swart, Helena Gill, Parinacci Corrigan, Lydia Davis, Kenneth Lefever, N. Le Van Haver, Harry Snyder, Fred Anderson, Vernon Bechler and Frank Anderson.

Others in the cast who portrayed Japanese girls were Mildred Anderson, Martha Barnett, Genevieve Bowen, Dorothy Bryan, Ruth Burns, Genevieve Cress, Alice Gorman, Maude Dodder, Helen Gilbert, Josephine English.

Margaret Knicker, Ruth Lewis, Adelle Mason, Kathryn Monroe, Winifred Nash, Hilda Port, Viola Schorn, Margaret Scott, Ethel Tongue, Wella VanVleet, Elizabeth Art, Caroline Christmann, Jeanne Hyde, Hilda Ismann, Beris Koll, Sarah Davis and Kathryn Bennett.

The members of the school orchestra were David Balzan, Frank Anderson, John Bond, Marjorie Christian, Anna Durney, Florence Gillett, Charlotte Gillett, Marion Gray, Margaret Halliday, Frank Hoffman, Joan Hummel, Clyde Mould, Henry Mark, Harold Mark.

United States Navy Should Have Equal Voice at President's Cabinet Meetings

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 29 — Secretary Forrestal's expressed fear that proposals for a single department of national defense would bring insecurity and disruption instead of a unified service is based on a belief that the United States Navy should not be punished for what it has accomplished in beating Japan but should retain what it has had before, namely, equal voice at the President's cabinet table.

The Navy secretary didn't mince words in characterizing the plan of the Army and the Army Air Forces to absorb the Navy. Inasmuch as the Army would split into two major units—one being the Army Ground Forces and the other the Army Air Forces—there would be two strikes against the Navy before any appropriations were discussed.

Both General Marshall and General Arnold have made no bones about the fact that they want to see their two services control the armament budget. Their ideas, they believe, about how the funds of the United States shall be spent for armament are better than the views which the Navy alone might have with respect to its own appropriations.

Already the Navy is under attack not only with respect to its own plans for defense, but its strategy in equipment. The reason the Navy fears absorption is that General Doolittle, one of the principal spokesmen for the single department plan, has already indicated that he wants to see naval aircraft carriers scrapped. It is no secret that the Army wants to have the right to pass upon the Navy's expenditures, and with a two-to-one vote in the department of defense, it is easy to see how much weight the Navy views would carry in rebuttal.

In recent testimony before the Senate Military Affairs Committee, General Doolittle said the "battleship had been obsolete for 20 years and obsolete for 10." He added that the aircraft carrier had reached the peak of its usefulness and was now going into "obsolescence." He continued:

"The carrier has two attributes—firstly it can move about, and secondly it can be sunk. When we get aircraft with sufficient range, we won't need carriers."

This kind of derogation of the Navy is not confined to General Doolittle. It's the way some of the Generals in the Army and Army Air Forces talk in private about the Navy. Still wonder that the Navy men are so much aroused by what they consider to be a plot to absorb the Navy and deprive it of the right to have a civilian secretary of its own, whereas the Army and Air Forces would dominate the single department, if it is created.

General Doolittle's comments are most unfortunate especially in their sarcastic preference to the sinking of the carriers. Would the war in the Pacific be won today if America had not used aircraft carriers? Would the Army Air Forces have had a chance to strike at Japan if the Navy carriers hadn't cleared the Pacific for landings by amphibious forces so that the bases were available for the B-29's? Were the battleships so obsolete that they could have been dispensed with at the invasion of Normandy and at the landings which permitted General MacArthur and the Marines to climb back to the Philippines and to Japan itself?

These views held by the Army Air Forces spokesmen have raised so much apprehension that differences between the armed services are more pronounced than they have ever been before. Excerpts like General Doolittle's have destroyed whatever hope there was for unifying the services, the lines of cleavage are too deep and Congress would be well advised to drop the subject for a year or so till the whole matter can be examined objectively and certainly until the facts are fully investigated as to what happened during the war in the Pacific.

Virtually all the proponents of the single department plan are thinking in terms of the European war which was a land war. Nothing has happened since V-J Day to abolish the 8,000 miles of Pacific ocean, the control of which is vital to the defense of California, Oregon and Washington.

The Army could not protect Pearl Harbor with its air forces and it couldn't protect Okinawa. The naval aircraft carriers had to supply the aviators to supply the ground operations for nearly five months at Okinawa. And yet General Doolittle, with the full approval and enthusiastic endorsement of Secretary of War Patterson, has opened an attack on the entire naval arm.

Until the truth about how the war was fought and won in the Pacific is fully disclosed it seems premature to talk about the success of unified operations in Washington. Until, also, the true responsibility for what happened in Washington before the Pearl Harbor attack is disclosed, it seems premature to endorse any single department of defense, especially since the chief reason why the Army and Navy officers claim they were unprepared at Pearl Harbor was because, they say, the Department of State didn't let them in advance all that it knew.

A unification of State, War and Navy, with three secretaries specifically given responsibilities for national security might be a better alternative than a single department but, of course, if Air Forces control over money to be spent for the Navy, and that is at the bottom of the whole controversy. Close Ups

By UPTON CLOSE

The special Pearl Harbor "war-guilt" committee has already done one important job well. It has another important job yet to do.

It has condemned the Roosevelt regime for criminal negligence. Not just the historians and the "inner circle," but the entire public, now knows that F.D.R. employed his best "make-believe" manner if he looked up from his stamp collection, as reported to gasp "No!" when told the Japs had attacked Hawaii.

Now it's time for an obscure little "footnote" in the early testimony to be exploded, like a grain of popcorn, into the whole ugly story of Mr. Roosevelt's painting courtship of war—for more than two years!—and of his lighter flirtations with war for another two years before that! And not in behalf of our own nation, but of Great Britain!

Kurusu, special Jap envoy who joined Ambassador Nomura in Washington 21 days before Pearl Harbor, told an A.P. reporter in Japan the other day that he and Nomura, behind "front negotiations" with F.D.R. and Hull, had worked with an American cabinet member and another official, influential advisor. "I don't feel free to reveal their identities without their permission," Kurusu added.

Kurusu evidently didn't know that buried among memos reaching the Congressional Committee a few hours earlier was an intercepted message to Tokyo sent by Nomura 27 days before Pearl Harbor and identifying their "unofficial but influential advisor" as Frederick A. Moore, a Washington newspaperman who has "advised" the Japanese Government for 14 years.

The Committee should question Mr. Moore. Judging by his book ("With Japan's Leaders"), published just after Pearl Harbor, he should have some interesting stories to tell.

Nomura said that Moore, after talks with Hull and Sen. Thomas D. (Utah), said 28 days before Pearl Harbor: "If Japan invades again, the United States will fight with Japan," obviously meaning that the U. S. would fight Japan if she opened war against British interest to the South.

In the summer of 1931, in clear violation of international law, the Americans, British, Chinese and Dutch had established a cordon to cut off all trade to and from Japan. Says Moore (pp. 215-221): "The effect upon Japan was a staggering blow. Japan had not the resources to live upon herself. Unless the circle of power-fall nations surrounding her could be broken (within a year) the Japanese would be at their mercy. And on p. 271: 'It has been charged that the Japanese pretended to be negotiating for a settlement while preparing a surprise attack—that Japan was openly proclaiming its intention to break the economic and military cordon if the American Government would not lift it! (And he quoted dispatches from Japan by all American news services, from November 30 on, to prove his point.)"

Moore also wrote (p. 233) that Nomura had arrived in February, 1941, "with the idea that was in the mind of the Foreign Minister, Matsukata, that Japan and the United States ought not only to get together but to mediate between Britain and Germany." He adds: "I discouraged this," advising the Japs envoys that "the shooting war will begin certainly in a matter of months." On March 17 (nine days after passage of "Lend-Lease") Moore wrote a memo, Myron Cyprienheimer, Faith River, Solomon Rodney, Martin Spigler, Kathleen Sharkey, Westbrook Stelle, Mary Coffin, with Mrs. C. H. Spaulding at the piano, winter.

Moore says (pp. 114-115) that "way back in early 1940 he felt highly led to be held back. . . . The President . . . was leading the nation step by step toward war." He admits that on December 23, 1940, he ghost-wrote the Jap naval attaché's report to Nomura before Nomura had arrived in the United States, saying: "The U. S. Government is preparing the American people for war. . . . The U. S. would permit Japan to defeat China. It would not go to war to defend China. . . . (but) will . . . probably help defend Singapore; . . . possibly the Dutch East Indies. . . . the Japanese attack one . . . of these places."

It's time, now, for the Congressional Committee to get down in black-and-white the full, detailed story of this Roosevelt commitment to send American boys to die, not for the U.S.A., but for Merrie Old England. It may help to have Tyler Kent back in his native America. (Copyright 1945 John F. Dille Co.)

Leaves From Notebook Of War Correspondent

By HAL BOYLE

Shanghai—(AP) A pretty young Chinese girl stood half-hidden in the shadow of the iron girders of Soochow creek bridge. From the darkness below came the restless cry of some child turning restlessly in the small river-boat that was his home, school, worship and playground.

As each passerby walked over the Soochow bridge the Chinese girl came out from her shelter in the girders and tried to sell articles she held clamped in both hands. She was one of a half dozen outdoor merchants . . . use the bridge as a salesroom.

Curious to see her wares, I paused, and she first tried to sell me a large sack of peanuts for 20 cents. Next she held up a cheap statue of Buddha, who still seems to keep up his stone grin despite the poverty and misery of China.

"Eighty cents," she answered. I shook my head, and then she held out the third piece of merchandise—a small, leather-covered object with a braided leather thong. "Two dollars," she said.

I asked her what it was, and she swung it vigorously, as if she were cracking down on a skull, and laughed merrily. I saw then it was a blackjack and before I could walk on she had cut the price from a dollar and a half to 51.

I passed up the purchase because there was nobody around at the moment I wanted to clip, but the experienced convinced me that least disappointing to a newcomer, you run across a pretty native girl at night peddling blackjacks at one luck each."

That was more impressive even than the old-quoted statement that for $50 you could get anyone murdered here. In Brooklyn several years ago when "Murder, Inc." was riding high, that figure would have been considered exorbitant. The savage man didn't have enough credits to justify such an investment.

In Shanghai only uncouth practitioners of highway robbery employ knives, guns or blackjacks. It is considered much more subtle and profitable to do it with a price tag. But despite all complaints being made against Shanghai merchants by American service personnel, their prices are no higher than merchants' charge in Hongkong, Singapore or Tokyo. I don't know where you would be charged as low for worse if you don't have some enough to back out of clip joints before they book you. The Chinese have no monopoly on such values.

State Will Move To Claim 4 Sites Declared Surplus

Housing Authority Begins Work to Acquire Locations to Lift Shortages

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—As a step in solving the problem of emergency housing, negotiations to claim four military installations as surplus property will be started today by the State Division, of Housing at the direction of Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

The governor predicted the state's housing shortage, which is particularly critical in New York City, would last five years. He announced yesterday after an inspection tour of sites for temporary housing here that the state would plan the remodeling of the army and coast guard buildings at the installations and would begin seeking materials.

The installations are: Fort Mills terminal on Staten Island, containing 102 frame buildings formerly occupied by stowaway troops of the New York Port of Embarkation. The governor said the buildings could be used for 750 to 900 apartments at an estimated cost of $800,000. The terminal was deactivated October 15.

Miller Field, also on Staten Island, which has hangars, barracks and other buildings capable of being converted into about 300 buildings. The governor said, however, the New York National Guard may want the field back when the army was through with it.

The Coast Guard training station at Manhattan Beach, Brooklyn, with 150 buildings which Dewey said could be converted into from 1500 to 2000 apartments. The governor said the station was "the most tremendous possibility" for temporary housing he had seen during his tour. The station graduates its final class tomorrow but whether it will become surplus has not been announced.

Fort Tilden, Brooklyn, a permanent Army post, which was surplus barracks capable of conversion into 400 apartments.

"We can and will appropriate the money to put them in shape," Dewey said. "Here is a real contribution toward a solution of emergency housing."

He said he had not yet discussed with New York city officials the possible alleviation of the housing shortage by acquisition of the installations but intended to do so "as soon as possible."

He also said he was unable to say whether management of the proposed units would be under the city or state governments or under private management.

Five Killed in Crash

Auburn, Calif., Nov. 29 (AP)—Five men were killed and 18 injured in the crash of a C-47 Army transport plane bound from Palm Springs, Calif., to McClellan Field, Sacramento in the Mount Vernon district near here. Dick Wayland, Associated Press correspondent reported from the scene of the crash that the 18 injured, some seriously, were being taken to Dwell General Hospital. All the passengers were Japanese-American soldiers attached to the Ninth Air Corps. It was not immediately learned whether the five dead were passengers or crew members.

Chelan Children Plan Memorial For Dead Comrades

Chelan, Wash., Nov. 29 (AP)—The school children of Chelan dipped into Christmas savings today to buy a memorial for their 15 comrades who died Monday in the tragic plunge of a school bus into a lake.

As divers prepared for what might be the last attempt to locate the bus in 400 feet or more of water, the children of the junior and senior high schools and Lakeside grade schools gathered in small groups at lunch hour and recess to contribute their money and discuss their plans.

"It was entirely their own idea and we're not interfering with any suggestions," said Chelan School Superintendent Morgan Owings. "They haven't decided just what form their memorial will take but have spoken of erecting a small monument at one of the schools or buying a 'special kind of book' for the school library."

"They say their lost friends would have liked it to be something useful."

Eisenhower Raps French Hampering

national basis could not be adopted on account of French opposition.

Views on Industry

Stating the United States had no intention of "taking any active steps to raise Germany above the economic level required by humanitarianism," Eisenhower declared that German industry must be raised above the five to seven per cent of capacity at which it is now operating, and that food must be imported without thought of payment.

"It is important to note that the revival of German agriculture, industry and trade which is being encouraged by the military government and the organization of German administrative machinery to take responsibility for the program," he said. "Are necessary to avoid expense to the American treasury."

While restlessness has been noticed, Eisenhower said that "there is no indication of any organized resistance and the number of crimes of violence is, in the aggregate, very small."

He warned, however, that the influx of refugees and returning prisoners of war was boosting the population of the American zone to close to 20,000,000 and "carriers with 11 potential dangers of unrest and disease."

Eisenhower said the United States still was providing refuge in Germany for more than 80,000 Estonians, Lithuanians and Latvians despite Russian demands that they be turned over as Soviet citizens. Another headache are Ukrainians of doubtful citizenship.

Not Subject to Repatriation

The individuals themselves claim not to be Soviet citizens and therefore not subject to repatriation under the United States-Soviet agreements," he said.

Denazification is proceeding vigorously, Eisenhower reported. In the American zone 5,042 German government and Nazi-owned properties valued at $114,900,000 have been seized.

Under Law No. 8, barring all former members of the Nazi party from employment other than manual labor, Eisenhower said, 80 per cent of the denazification of all industrial plants in the U. S. zone had been completed by the end of October.

The German people, Eisenhower said, still are "politically apathetic" in the face of approaching elections, with the Communists and Social Democrats "supplying the main drive."

"Wide sections of the population," he said, "consider that the parties and leaders which present themselves today are, to a large extent, the same as those which were unable to solve the problems of the Weimar republic or to prevent the coming of Hitler and that these leaders now seem to be able to put forward very little that looks new or constructive."

National Park Created

Manila, Nov. 29 (AP)—President Sergio Osmeña today signed an order creating a national park on bloodstained Bataan peninsula, honoring its heroic Filipino and American defenders.

Buck Purchases Cashin Building

grading plant, while the three upper floors would be used for offices and warehouse.

Several years ago Mr. Buck purchased the Newland building on East Strand, opposite the old ferry shed of the Rhinebeck ferry, to carry on his trucking business. The former Watts & Tammany coal yard, adjoining the Newland building, was also purchased a few years ago by Robert F. Buck who is engaged in the scrap iron and junk business, and the former coal and yard office building is now used by him for his expanding business.

The Cashin building has been vacant for a number of years. In the 1920's the first floor was used as a modern restaurant by Columbus Carroll of this city. Prior to that Max Jacobson, the downtown clothier had his store in the building, and at one time Avnet Brothers, clothiers, had a men's clothing store in the corner store, removing from there to the Cordis building on the opposite side of Hasbrouck avenue where they were in business for some years before closing the store.

While the first floor of the Cashin building has always been used for store and restaurant purposes, the three upper floors were used for living apartments.

Mr. Buck plans to make considerable alterations to the building now that he has taken title to it.

City's First Snow
Arrives During Night

Rain that fell in Kingston on Wednesday afternoon and evening later turned to snow and when residents awoke this morning it was to find the ground covered with half an inch of snow, and the storm still in progress. The lowest temperature recorded during the night by the official city thermometer was 33 degrees.

The storm was accompanied by a high wind during the night and early morning.

Owing to the mildness of the weather this morning much of the snow that was falling turned into slush, making walking disagreeable.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from a low of 34 degrees in the morning to a high of 41 degrees in the afternoon.

Vinegar Price to Jump

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The retail price for cider vinegar will go up four cents to 20 cents a gallon beginning December 4. Announcing this today, O.P.A. said the reason is higher prices for fresh apples, which is more in some parts of the country than in others.

Murray Confirms Riparian Awards For Section Four

Three awards made by Commissioners of Appraisal John H. Kelley, Louis S. Lewis and Albert T. Decker, members of Roundout Riparian, Section 4, Ulster County commission were confirmed by Justice William H. Murray at a special term in Albany on November 23. This commission heard claims of property owners along the Rondout from Accord to High Falls, awarding damages for water rights which were depreciated through the City of New York inundating waters of the Rondout at Merriman dam.

The awards confirmed are: Parcel 337, Fred Simpson $900. Counsel fees $5 and witness fees $213.46. Robert G. Groves for claimant.

Parcel 330, Edward Davenport $5,700. Counsel fees $285 and witness fees $456.94. Wiswall, Walton, Wood and MacAffer for claimant.

Parcel 317 and 332, John L. Schoonmaker $9,500. Counsel fees $475. Witness fees $674.04. Wiswall, Walton, Wood and MacAffer for counsel for claimant.

Storm Stalls Cars In Mountain Areas

Kingston less than an inch had fallen at 8 o'clock, but snow continued through the forenoon.

Shortly before 8 this morning Deputy Sheriff Frost reported that 50 cars were stalled or otherwise in trouble on the West Hurley-Woodstock road. The county highway department was notified and a truck was sent to the scene. The Rosendale Boulevard, which is reported to be slippery when wet, caused motorists a good deal of trouble. On Cornell Hill at Rosendale a large milk truck had jackknifed and was crossways on the road while many cars had been unable to make the hill.

South of the Wallkill Valley railroad crossing near Kingston as one left the road and was badly damaged along one side. Some drivers coming to Kingston from Rosendale detoured by way of Edenville and came through without difficulty.

The early morning bus from Ellenville arrived about two hours late this morning, the road having been blocked just outside of Ellenville by two trucks which were stuck on the hill.

Rural Residents Will Get Phones

Extra Construction Charges
Will Be Lowered
by Cooperation

Many rural residents of New York state now without telephone service will benefit from a new telephone line construction charge plan being filed today with the Public Service Commission. The New York Telephone Company and the larger independent telephone companies in this state joined in this move to lower extra construction charges. Such charges are necessary when the applicant for service lives on a highway but is some distance from the nearest telephone line.

According to C. E. Burnett, local manager for the New York Telephone Company, the new plan means that only a very small percentage of such rural families may have to pay a construction charge. In the great majority of cases, telephone service can be installed without construction charges.

The main benefits of this new plan for prospective telephone subscribers in rural areas are:

Construction along the highway without charge has been increased to one-half mile per applicant.

Charges for highway construction beyond the half-mile allowance have been cut one-third.

Charges can be spread over a period in small monthly payments, or a 10 per cent discount is given for lump sum payment in advance. When two or more neighbors take service at the same time they benefit from group treatment which reduces or may eliminate the construction charge for each individual.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Nov. 28—John Powell of Leptondale was a recent dinner guest at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell.

Miss Bertha Sutton accompanied Mrs. Earl DeWitt of Gardiner to Poughkeepsie on Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Cocks spent a few days last week with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Grill, and also visited the son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cocks in New York. The Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Howard and family of Mahwah, N. J., were visitors of Mrs. Howard's sister and family, the Rev. and Mrs. James W. Tyse, on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Countryman of Maryland have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Countryman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dylewski.

Miss Beta Dolan, who teaches at Kendall, spent Thanksgiving and the week-end with her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Myra Dolan and Mrs. Iva Lov.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cowen and family of Kingston were visitors on Friday at the home of Mrs. Cowen's father and sister, C. F. Booth and Mrs. Countryman. Mr. Cowen was recently discharged from the navy.

Miss Bertha Sutton entertained the following guests on Thanksgiving Day, Mr. and Mrs. Hallock Sutton and grandson, Matthew Gummerson of near Walden, Mr. and Mrs. LeVerne Powell of Modena and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker and family spent Thanksgiving and the week-end with Mrs. Schoonmaker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Germain Smith at Castile.

The Young Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Everett on Saturday afternoon, December 1 at 2:30. Mrs. Bulah Thompson will be the assistant hostess.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward Powell and sister on Wednesday afternoon, December 5 at 2:30 o'clock. All the ladies of the community are invited.

Mrs. William Tears returned to her home in Poughkeepsie after spending three weeks with her mother, Mrs. M. L. Birch who has been ill.

Over 100 young people from Wadken, Walkill, Shawangunk, New Paltz and Gardiner Reformed Churches attended the meeting in the New Hurley Church last Sunday evening. The New Hurley young people had charge of the worship service. Harold Birch was the speaker for the evening.

The people of this community extend their very best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. J. Addison Bonk who were recently married at the New Hurley Church parsonage. Mrs. Bonk is a member of the New Hurley Church choir and Young Women's Club.

Without Painful Backache
Many suffer from aching backache, especially when they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be their kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When function of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause headache, backache, rheumatism, loss of sleep and energy, itching up night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent uric acid attacks with aching and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a stimulant, diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 40 years. Don't give kidney trouble a chance! It will help the 11 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

WHEN THE OLDER DON'T, THE YOUNGER HAVE TO

Although the older members always are expected to leave a meeting first, this courtesy evidently has become a problem under the circumstances noted in this letter: "At our auxiliary meetings we are the younger group of married members. After the business is taken care of, the meeting consists of conversation and refreshments. No one seems to take the initiative to leave and the party drags on and on. We feel that it is the place of the older women to make the move but in view of the fact that they don't, would it be considered bad taste if we did?"

Unless there is a guest of honor who naturally would be required to go first, it seems to me that the younger women could make the move to go. In courtesy they can say that they have other engagements or work to do or husband will be home soon or whatever their reason may be.

Nice But Not Quite Nice Enough
Dear Mrs. Post: We have an old family friend who has been a second father to my daughter. When she married not long ago, he gave her many items of her trousseau. She had picked them out to buy herself and he sent them. She immediately thanked him by telephone. I heard the conversation and she did make a great to-do about his gift. She really was very much touched by his generosity and I thought she expressed it adequately. Well, it seems that he feels that he should have received a personal note of thanks from my daughter in addition to the very personal telephone thank-you. What is your verdict?

Answer: This is one of those occasions when you are both right. I can understand how telephoning him enthusiastically seemed to her all that was necessary, but on the other hand, a great many people—especially older ones—think that the telephone is very casual. Therefore a very short but enthusiastic note in addition to the message would have been the really right thing to do.

Present to Boy Friend
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it wrong for a girl to be the first ones to give her boy friend a gift? They have known each other about six months and during that time, he has not given her a present. His birthday is coming soon and she wondered whether she could give him a gift, and if so, what?

Answer: Certainly, but nothing too personal or expensive.
Correct forms for letter writing are found in Mrs. Post's booklet 592, "The Etiquette of Letter Writing," obtainable for 10 cents in coin and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent in care of the Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 59, Station G, New York, N. Y.

Yamashita Denies Atrocities Knowledge

Manila, P. I., Nov. 29 (UP)—Direct examination of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, testifying in his own defense on war crimes charges, concluded today with the former Philippines commander steadfastly denying any knowledge of atrocities committed by his Japanese army subordinates. In response to questions by his defense attorneys, Yamashita admitted close liaison with his various chiefs of staff but snapped an emphatic "no" to a question whether he ever issued any orders for killings or brutal treatment of civilians. In fact, he testified, he had instructed his subordinates to cooperate with the Filipinos as much as possible.

Supervisors Adopt Table For Equalization; Vote 18-8

was correct and continued by stating there had been no general increase in the assessments in the City of Kingston this year to justify any further change this year in the ratio. He said he did not know why the State had changed its recommended ratio for the city since there had been no upward assessments since last year. He stated sales of property indicated that 70 per cent was nearer correct than the 75 per cent suggested by the state table. The City Assessor had been at the Equalization Committee meetings

IT'S 4 to 1 YOU CAN GET A LOAN Here!

THE more times we say "Yes" to requests for loans, the more business we do. And since making personal loans of $10 to $500 or more is our only business — that's mighty important to us. Proof that we do say "Yes": 4 out of 5 who ask for a loan at Personal Finance Co. get it.

1. RIGHT NOW we are making "ride-over" loans to former war workers waiting to go back at their old plant or to start on a new job.

2. RIGHT NOW we are making loans to finance the purchase of refrigerators, radios, washing machines, etc. Personal Finance Co. makes loans to employed men and women — married or single. You can get cash on your signature alone or on your furniture or auto. Don't borrow unnecessarily — but if a loan is to your advantage, we'll be glad to say "Yes." The odds are 4 to 1 you'll get it at Personal Finance Co.

and from the facts he said 70 per cent was fair.

Mr. O'Neill then offered an amendment to the table in which he substituted the State's figures, except in the case of Hardenbergh. In Hardenbergh the State's recommendation for 1945 was 40 per cent and Mr. O'Neill offered a 60 per cent rate.

Supervisor Schuler suggested the O'Neill table was an "honest" one and he asked the city supervisors to "stand up and vote for the state table."

Supervisor Harry Snyder speaking for the adoption of the committee's table said it was too bad the members did not attend the meeting of the Equalization Committee. He said it was not the purpose of the Equalization Committee to tell the assessors how to assess property, it was the committee's purpose to determine the proportion of the assessment as made by the assessors to the values to get a correct figure. He said the State Bureau had been consulted and he read a letter from A. B. Slack of the State Department in which it was pointed out that the tax was to be levied as equalized by the Board and not as recommended in the State table.

Mr. Snyder said that City Assessor Betts had attended a meeting of the committee on November 20 and at that time Mr. Betts has said Wall street property was assessed too low and that it was intended to increase the assessments next year and subsequent years. Sales of property during the past year indicated, Mr. Snyder said, that a ratio of 40 per cent to 45 per cent for equalization purposes was nearer correct. Sales for 11 months of 1945 showed that the ratio was not even 40 per cent or 45 per cent.

Mr. O'Neill asked Mr. Snyder if he had not stated in 1944 that the table then adopted was a compromise between two extremes and was an attempt to get the table over to the State figure.

The question was not answered as Supervisor Murray moved a vote on the amendment of Mr. O'Neill.

The amendment of O'Neill was lost an then Mr. Murray moved a vote on the original resolution for adoption of the table recommended by the committee on Equalization. The resolution was carried by an 18 to 7 vote. At the conclusion Mr. Schuler remarked that this was "railroading" again.

Laboratory Fund Voted

A resolution was offered that there be assessed and levied on the property outside the city of Kingston the sum of $6,000 for the Laboratory Fund. A contract to pay the city $12,000 for county laboratory work had been approved, half of this sum is reimbursed by the State and all the county need raise is $6,000.

The County Law of 1898, as amended, was further amended to fix the bounty for gray foxes at $3 and red or other foxes at $2. This increase had been incorporated in a resolution offered several days ago by Supervisor Kelder, who moved the amendment to its third reading and after that reading was unopposed, County Law No. 6, as previously amended, was further amended to include the increased bounty payments. Petts are to be presented to the supervisor of the town who will punch each ear with a "T" after proof of the killing has been provided.

Resolutions of the previous session were called up and adopted. Clerk Simpson notified members that the Committee on Printing would hold a meeting at 7 o'clock on November 30 at which time bids for printing the Supervisor's proceedings would be opened.

Committee on Salaries will meet December 3 at 3:30. The County Home inspection will be on December 6. Supervisors' bills must be in by December 3 meeting time.

The Board adjourned until Friday at 7:30 o'clock.

"Pin-Worms Can't Get MY Child!"

Better learn the Truth, Mother!

Recent medical reports reveal that as many as 100 million children (and grown-ups too) may be victims of Pin-Worms—without knowing what it is or how to get rid of it. And these pests, living and growing inside the human body, can cause real distress.

So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms—especially the irritating rectal itch. If you suspect this only infection, get JAYNE'S P-W RITZ cream and follow the directions.

P-W is the name of the Pin-Worm tablet developed by the laboratory of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, after years of patient research. The small, easy-to-swallow P-W tablets are in a special way to ensure P-W's success. Send action—no more money back. Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Deer Very Plentiful In Pennsylvania

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP)—The hunter won't have to hunt very far to find plenty of deer in Penn's woods, the Game Commission predicted today.

As a matter of fact, the fleet animals are so plentiful they're a nuisance in back yards and on the highways in some urban sections, particularly southeastern Pennsylvania.

During the 15-day season which opens Saturday, the Commission estimated upwards of 250,000 men and women—including many returning servicemen enjoying their first one-sided warfare since Pearl

Atharhacton Hears Paper

On Yucatan Excavations Mrs. Everett Fessenden was hostess to the Atharhacton Club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fair street. During the business meeting the members voted the usual Christmas contribution to the Industrial Home. Mrs. Fessenden gave a paper on Mayan Ruins for the study program. She based her information on the book, "Diggers in Yucatan," by Anna Morris. Mrs. Morris had accompanied her husband to Yucatan when he was sent out to study and reconstruct certain of the ruins under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation. She explained that to keep an expedition in such a climate as Yucatan an archaeologist must also be a doctor, engineer, mechanic, photographer, biologist, zoologist and architect. The first accounts of the civilization were made by Catholic missionaries in 1517. The first scientific study of the ruins was made possible by the interest of Edward Thompson, who secured the appointment of American consul to that country. He did much work near Chichen-Itza, where the sacred well was located. Descending to the depths of the well, Mr. Thompson made many discoveries. It was here that human and material sacrifices of the choicest of the Mayan people were made to Rian God.

Mrs. Fessenden described the care taken in excavating the ruins and particularly of the restoration of the famous Temple of the Warriors. She concluded by showing a number of pictures of this temple. Preceding the meeting the hostess served tea. Miss Emily Haysradt assisted by pouring.

McCardle-Pardee Nuptials Are Held In Port Ewen Church

The wedding of Miss Barbara Gertrude Pardee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pardee of Connelly to Francis J. McCardle, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McCardle, 34 Chapel street, took place Monday morning at 10 o'clock before a Nuptial Mass in the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Michael J. Curley.

Theodore Riccoboni was at the organ. Miss Patricia Keefe as soloist sang, "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus." The altar was decorated with chrysanthemums and candles. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Edward Pardee. She wore a white satin gown made with sweetheart neckline, long puffed sleeves, and train edged with lace. Her long tulle veil was held in place by a crown of net. She carried a prayer book with gardenias and roses. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. James Scully. Mrs. Scully wore a blue tulle gown made with sweetheart neckline, and short puffed sleeves. She also wore blue lace gloves and a headpiece of blue flowers and veining. Her bouquet was an arrangement of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Marge and Tony's for about 100 guests. Decorations were in pink, blue and white. Mr. and Mrs. McCardle left for a wedding trip to New York City. For traveling Mrs. McCardle wore a black dress with black accessories, mink coat and corsage of gardenias. Both the bride and bridegroom attended Kingston High School. Mrs. McCardle is employed at the Manhattan Shirt Co. Mr. McCardle is a graduate of Collier's Embalming School in New York city and is an undertaker.

Tomato Punch and Hot Dogs

Good after the game eating for ravenous school crowd appetites is this quick-to-fix buffet spread: Speeded tomato punch served with a platter of hot dogs. The punch is pure wizardry of the kind busy mothers like the best. For it takes a few minutes to prepare, uses kitchen-handly staples, has a rich tomato tang that's heartening. To make, combine in a saucepan one 11-ounce can condensed cream of tomato soup diluted with an equal volume of water, one beef bouillon cube, six whole cloves, six whole allspice, one stick cinnamon broken. Boil gently five minutes, stirring occasionally; then strain out the spices and serve sizzling hot. Sheer lemon slices skimming the surface make this picture pretty and pungent. We guarantee this to warm bleacher-chilled bones, bring a tingle to frosted toes, flood cold-stiffened cheeks with rosy-cosy glow.—Jenn Merritt, Heinz Home Institute.

Denton-Dimsey Wedding Takes Place

Highland, Nov. 29—The marriage of Miss Ethel Dimsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Denton, Fair street, to James Denton, son of Mrs. Catherine Denton, Washington avenue, took place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frederick A. Schimmer, pastor. The traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Willard Burke at the organ. She also accompanied the soloist, Miss Lulu Dimsey, sister of the bride of Providence, R. I., who sang, "O, Promise Me."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown with white satin bodice and net skirt ending with a net train. She carried white chrysanthemums. Her finger tip veil was caught with a cap of net. Her bridesmaid, a sister-in-law of the bridegroom, Mrs. Anthony Denton, was in a blue gown made with lace bodice and net skirt. She carried pink tea roses.

Harry Denton, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Lester Wager of Modena, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and George Alsford of Walden, uncle of the bride. The mother of the bride wore a black ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Denton, mother of the bridegroom, also wore black and a corsage of white roses.

A reception was held at the bride's home. About 50 guests were present from Tannersville, Providence, R. I., Connecticut, Gardiner, Modena, Kingston, Walden and New Paltz. The wedding party received the guests under a white wedding bell. The house was trimmed in white streamers and flowers. Later the couple left for New York and Providence, R. I. For traveling the bride wore a three-piece blue suit. They will be at home next week in their apartment on the 31st floor, both Mr. and Mrs. Denton have been connected for a long time with the Empire Market.

Vets Book Cage Tilt for Post Building Fund

Fleet Post Office Five Will Oppose Army Signal Corps Team at Municipal Auditorium

Kingston is to have its own Army-Navy game, a basketball engagement between the Fleet Post Office quintet of New York city and the Army Signal Corps five of Long Island.

This announcement was made today by William Jordan, activities chairman of Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The service clash is scheduled for Wednesday, December 12, at the municipal auditorium.

"We've been able to procure the two service teams to help us raise money for our building fund," he said, adding that the veterans hoped Kingston cage fans would turn out in large numbers to support the event.

Contact for Joyce-Schirick Post was made through Edward J. Noonan, Ma.M. 2/c, of 27 Augusta street, who is on naval duty in the Fleet Post Office, and Lieut. Benton Bray, his commanding officer. Lieutenant Bray obtained permission from Lieutenant Commander William J. Hagarty of the Fleet Post Office for the Navy to play in Kingston, and then procured the Signal Corps as the opposition team.

Commander Hagarty remarked,

"I consider this game an important one for a very worthy cause. Our discharged veterans are fortunate in having an organization like Joyce-Schirick Post, V.F.W., to look after their welfare. I'm glad to send the Navy team to Kingston."

Lieutenant Bray was an enthusiastic as his commander. "I've heard a lot about Kingston as a sports town from Noonan and I can assure all who attend the vets' game that the Navy boys will be in there to win. They'll show the fans a lot of action."

The Army Signal Corps quintet is one of the fastest in the metropolitan district, and it hopes to sink the Navy at the auditorium. Incidentally, the match is a league event, a regularly scheduled tilt of the service loop for the metropolitan championship. It will count in the standings of the clubs. This goes to assure those who patronize the affair a real action-packed thriller.

Club lineups and further announcements concerning the cage skirmish will be made later.

Hogan Is Favored In Orlando Open Beginning Today

Orlando, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP)—With a total of 164 entries including the country's top professional and amateur golfers, the $10,000 Orlando Open Golf Tournament begins here today.

Ben Hogan, the Hershey, Pa., winner of the Montgomery Invitational, was the tournament favorite. He carded a par 71 in a practice round yesterday.

Carrington, Navy Guard, Is Barred From Drills by Cold

By RUS HAM

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 29 (AP)—Navy had an added worry today—whether Guard Jim Carrington will be able to play—as the Middles packed seabags to shove off for Philadelphia and Saturday's big game with Army.

Carrington had a temperature of 100 before yesterday's last long workout, and the Middles coach, Commr. Oscar E. Hagberg, sent him to bed.

A doctor examined Carrington and told him it would not be a good idea to practice on a field soaked by a hard afternoon rain.

Hagberg later said that Carrington had a cold and was "feeling lousy."

Hagberg added that he expects Carrington to be ready to start against Army but a further check will be made on his condition before the squad leaves for Philadelphia this afternoon.

Should Carrington's illness hang on, Stan Turner, an experienced and able understudy, would be in line for the starting right guard position.

Two other Navy regulars, end Leon Bramlett and tackle Bo Coppeige, have shoulder injuries but Hagberg said they will "be in there Saturday."

After yesterday's drill, one of the longest of the season, Navy men said that the Middles realize they must go out and score three or four times to stay in the running with Army's mighty machine. "We've simply got to outscore them," they said.

Navy wouldn't be surprised if such seldom-mentioned backs as Joe Bartos, Pete Williams and Bill Barron take the lead in the Middles running game against Army.

Last night the brigade of midshipmen gave the players a rousing pep rally.

Today Hagberg planned a limbering-up drill at one p. m. with four full teams soon thereafter leaving their dormitories to march out under huge placards reading:

"It can be done: It will be done: Beat Army."

Coach 'Red' Blaik Rates Army-Navy Game a Toss-up

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—

You can throw all the records out the window and chalk up Saturday's Army-Navy football game as a rough, tough struggle in which anything might happen.

That is, you can if you're inclined to believe Colonel Earl (Red) Blaik, head coach of the all-victorious Army team which has been established in most quarters as a four-touchdown favorite to sink the Navy, run its victory string to 18 and pocket the national championship of 1945.

With fureworn brow, Blaik will look you straight in the eye and tell you he rates the game a toss-up. And there's something about his straight-forward manner that makes you think he really means it.

"Navy has improved immeasurably the last three weeks," Blaik said, "particularly on the offense."

Also, Army may be weakened somewhat by the illness of Arnold Tucker, first string quarterback, and Barney Ponce, second string men—both in bed with mild cases of flu—and an injured shoulder received by Rip Rowan, chief understudy of Fullback Doc Blanchard, in yesterday's practice.

But the principal equalizer in this game is the traditional rivalry existing between the two service academies, says Blaik, who believes past performances can be forgotten any time the two teams meet.

"We were picked to beat Navy in 1942," he recalls. "But we went down to Annapolis and got one of the worst kicking-rouds (14-0) we ever got."

In Blaik's opinion, Navy's Duck Duden and Leon Bramlett are a better pair of ends than Army has faced all season. "Duden is a great athlete," he says. "He has size and ability and is a fine leader."

All in all, the Colonel thinks the Middles "have the personnel to stand up and play ball with us" and he doesn't expect them to try any fancy, unorthodox defense which an undermanned opponent might spring in a desperate attempt to halt the powerful Army attack.

"But we'll be in there, too," the straight-faced Army coach tells you, just to show you he believes his boys have a fighting chance. "Don't forget, this is an Army-Navy game."

Gulfstream Park Opens Florida's Season Saturday

Miami, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP)—High stepping thoroughbreds were pacing at Gulfstream Park today, ready for the bugle Saturday that will herald Florida's longest racing season—and what horsemen predict will be an all-time bonanza at turnstiles and betting windows.

The jinx that destined Gulfstream to five years of litigation and 25 days of racing since its founding in 1933, was in danger of being trampled to death as trainers groomed their turf aristocrats, electricians geared up the parimutuel machines, and painters put the finishing touches to grandstand and clubhouse.

This year officials have pitched three tents to house under "big tops" the overflow among the 650 thoroughbreds racing to go in the 40-day meeting.

Canadian-American Series in Wichita

Wichita, Kas., Nov. 29 (AP)—The 1946 Canadian-American "World Series" between the non-professional baseball champions of the two countries will be played in Wichita, President Ray DuMont of the National Baseball Congress announced today.

The inter-country classic will open four days after the conclusion of the national tournament, also scheduled for Wichita.

White Sox Fielders Home From Service

Chicago, Nov. 29 (AP)—White Sox center fielder Thurman Tucker and right fielder Taft Wright are home from the wars.

The baseball club's vice-president, Harry M. Grabner, said Tucker, after a year in the navy, was ready to return to the Sox active list. Wright, discharged after three years in the army, advised Grabner he was "feeling fine and rarin' to go in 1946."

Philadelphia Wants Olympic Games in '52

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—A galaxy of former Olympic stars gathered in Philadelphia today for a "silver jubilee" reunion.

Sculler Paul Costello, who is sponsoring the affair with oarsman Jack Kelly and University of Pennsylvania Track Coach Lawson Robertson, said "we're trying to attract attention to Philadelphia in hopes of having this city the site of the 1952 games."

Mayer's Busher Is Likely Choice As Horse of Year

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 29 (AP)—Louis B. Mayer's Busher, almost a cinch to be named champion three-year-old filly, has a good chance of grabbing the "horse of the year" award in most of the annual polls of turf writers now being conducted.

Pot O'Luck, which finished fourth to Styxie, First Fiddle and British Buddy in the Riggs handicap, can put in a strong bid for the three-year-old colt title by a good performance against older horses in the Pimlico Cup handicap Friday.

The British organized the first "Airgraph Service" to maintain contact with troops in Egypt and India via microfilm.

Predict Red Fox Record Take in 1945

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—The Red fox bag in New York state this year will set a record, the Conservation Department predicted today.

Though the market value of pelts is relatively low, the department expects trappers to take more than 36,000 foxes. The estimate is based on statistics filed thus far.

There is an unusually large number of foxes in the state, the department reported, and trappers have become more efficient.

The state has taken a hand in controlling the predatory animals because of complaints from sportsmen and farmers. Professionals are employed to trap foxes in areas where damage is extensive, and to demonstrate methods.

Nazis Weep at Plight

At Niagara, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—A group of 1,750 German war prisoners, some of whom wept openly last week during processing for return to Europe, left for an embarkation port without showing signs of emotion. Capt. Frederic A. Dewille, post public relations officer, said last night the prisoners were "orderly" as they left by train Tuesday for an east coast port.

Kingston High Varsity Basketball Schedule Is Set

Maroons Have Warmup Contest Slated With Marist Academy on Friday

With the football season officially closed, Kingston High School is turning to basketball. Although the DUSO League season does not officially open until December 14, the Maroon and White cagers will swing into action Friday afternoon at Esopus against Marist Academy in a practice game. The December 14 opener has Middletown slated to oppose the Maroons in a DUSO game on the municipal auditorium court.

Coach K. Warren Kias is still developing his squad. With only one varsity man returning from last year, Tony Albany, the Maroon mentor has his hands full trying to replace men like Gus Koch, Ed Huettinger, Don Ross and Red McConnell. However, Bob Murray, Ed Weaver and Bob Miller are returning from last year's sub-varsity to help fill the four big gaps in the varsity ranks.

"The practice game with Marist is strictly a scrimmage as far as we're concerned," Coach Kias said. "The outcome of the game is not the important thing. I'm trying to find out how the squad will shape up under game conditions."

The 1945-46 schedule:

December
14—Middletown* Home
18—Arlington Away
21—Port Jervis* Away

January
4—Monticello* Away
8—Saugerties Home
11—Newburgh* Away

And I intend to use everyone who makes the trip in order to find out just who has the best possibilities.

"However," Kias continued, "I probably won't know who the first five will be until after Christmas. Since we have four vacant berths on the varsity, it will take time for me to find out the four best men among the candidates for the jobs. Although our first few games will be the experimental stage of the season, we'll know by the first of the year just how things stand."

Along with the varsity and sub-varsity men returning from last year's squad, Kias has several of last year's favorite squad to fill up the sub-varsity ranks. Among these are the boys who will probably accompany the Maroon to Marist tomorrow, Ed McCordie, Ken Lowe, Mike Klenzo, Neal Dunham will probably be included in this group along with George Glaser, Tommy McGrane, Harry Koch, Bob Ghear, and several others. Len Sicker, who quit in mid-season last year will also make the trip.

The regular schedule for this year includes ten DUSO games with the double round system followed by a playoff between the winners of each round. The Maroon also has seven free lance skirmishes listed. Home and home games with Saugerties, Arlington, and Poughkeepsie, and a game with N.Y.M.A. to fill the slate.

Military Court Is Shown Ghastly Concentration Films

Nuernberg, Nov. 29 (AP)—Ghastly scenes of Nazi concentration camps were shown in motion pictures today to the International Military Tribunal but some of the Hitlerite leaders on trial sat with averted eyes during the showing of the grim film record of German cruelty.

The grisly pictures of mass murder, sobered Reichsmarschall Hermann Goering and others of the score of defendants who had grinned and laughed earlier as an American prosecutor disclosed the threats, bluffs and deceit with which Hitler softened up Austria for an unopposed invasion.

Hjalmar Schacht, Hitler's "financial wizard," sat with his back to the screen, refusing to look at the official U. S. Army film, Franz Von Papen, once Germany's wildest diplomat, refused to glance at the screen but could not shut out the sound of the narrator's voice describing the deaths of thousands of Nazi victims.

Rudolf Hess, on the other hand, showed an interest in the trial for the first time. Hitler's one-time deputy, who is trying to escape from the trial on a plea of lost memory, followed the uncensored film closely.

Goering also watched the screen intently.

Cold, aloof Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, Germany Navy Commander-in-Chief, glanced at the screen only occasionally.

The court adjourned for the day.

$1,099.90 Awarded Claude Hepworth In Apple Case

An action brought by Claude Hepworth against Interstate Apple Produce, Inc., to recover for sale of apples last spring was concluded Wednesday in supreme court when the jury returned a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $1,099.90, the amount sued for. Plaintiff contended a contract had been entered into to purchase a quantity of apples, among them those of Mrs. Bessie A. Dunn, and he alleged that the purchaser took some apples and then declined to take the balance and stopped payment on a check which had been given. Defendant claimed the apples were not of the proper grade, although plaintiff contended the defendant had inspected the apples at the cooler.

Trial of N. 149 and 150, Michael Callo and Marian Callo against Agostino De Fabio, negligence actions, were taken up for trial.

Grand Jury to Report
The grand jury will make its report to Supreme Court Justice Schirick at 11 o'clock Friday.

at 4:45 p. m. (10:45 a. m. E. S. T.) after the motion picture was entered as evidence.

Army Intelligence Gussed Japs Would Invade Thai

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Army intelligence officers gussed on November 27, 1941—ten days before the Pearl Harbor attack—that Japan's next military move would be an invasion of Thailand. This estimate was disclosed in a memorandum by Brig Sherman Miles, then acting assistant chief of intelligence, which was filed today with the Senate-House Committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Miles told Gen. George C. Marshall, former army chief of staff, that it then appeared evident the Japanese had "completed plans for further aggressive moves in Southeastern Asia."

"These plans will probably be put into effect soon after the armed forces feel that the Kurusu mission is a definite failure," Miles' report said. "A task force of about five divisions, supported by appropriate air units, has been assembled for the execution of these plans."

Miles' report noted that the Manila naval district had reported a Japanese task force, headed by three or four battleships and three carriers, was steaming toward an unknown concentration point. This was not the force which made the Pearl Harbor strike, previous testimony showed. That one had left Japan a day or so earlier.

A December 5 estimate for Marshall on the forthcoming military development in December, January, February and March carried the statement that Japanese leaders "aware of the peril of further military adventures" wanted "to avoid a general war in the Pacific."

The intelligence division said Japan had several lines of action open to it. It listed these as follows:

Attacks on Siberia or the Yunnan province of China; occupation of Thailand; attacks through Thailand on Burma and the Burma road or Malaya; attacks on the Philippines and Hong Kong, preparatory to assaults on Singapore or the Netherlands East Indies.

The intelligence office said Japan might bide her time for a better opportunity, might seek a general settlement through American mediation or might revert her whole foreign policy by withdrawing from the Axis—the report noted that the latter two possibilities were unlikely, short of a complete overthrow of the Japanese governing forces.

McVay Asks Why Navy Didn't Look for His Cruiser

By MORRIS LANDSBERG
 Tokyo, Nov. 23 (AP)—What caused the sinking of the heavy cruiser Indianapolis with the loss of 880 lives from the crew of 1,155 men? Why was no search made for the overdue ship? And was there delay in passing the word "abandon ship?" These are the three key questions in the tragedy of the Indianapolis, from stories survivors have told me—and they doubtless will be asked officially at the court martial next Monday in Washington of the skipper, Capt. Charles B. McVay. The fact that the fatal explosion ripped the slender bow of the 14-year-old ship shortly after midnight last July 30, yet survivors were not sighted until afternoon on August 2, their fourth day adrift—and then by a plane not looking for them—obviously contributed to the heavy death toll. The Indianapolis went down in 15 nightmarish minutes, her short, slender skipper told me August 5 in a Peleliu hospital. She went down so swiftly, bow first, that no one really knew what hit her, survivors told me. She had been steaming unescorted toward Leyte, from Guam, and was due to arrive at noon July 31. We heard two versions: she had struck a mine, or she had been hit by an enemy torpedo. "My guess," Captain McVay told me in the Peleliu hospital (in the Palau Islands) "is that it was an underwater torpedo attack." In the first minutes after the blast, he said he thought the ship had been hit by two torpedoes, or by one torpedo and a mine. Japanese since have denied they had any submarines in the vicinity—approximately 300 miles north-west of Peleliu—but they could have been mistaken. Indianapolis officers said the cruiser had no submarine detection gear, since it would have cut down her speed. She had made a high speed run from San Francisco to Pearl Harbor (11 hours) and continued to Tinian in the Marianas with material, making 24 knots (about 27 miles an hour). No Search Was Made Although the cruiser had arranged to be met 30 miles off Leyte early July 31 by sleeve-towing planes for target practice, no search was begun until August 2 "so far as we know," Captain McVay told me. A Navy seaplane on a routine mission first sighted the Indianapolis survivors that fourth day without knowing who they were or what had happened. "I should think that by noon (July 31) a ship like this, running on a train schedule would have been missed," McVay related; "Why didn't this (the fact the ship was overdue) get out sooner?" (Fleet headquarters at Guam explained at the time that non-arrival at Leyte would not necessarily have caused alarm, among other factors, a statement explained, was the fact that in wartime ships' orders sometimes are changed en route without notice to their originally scheduled destinations.)

Without lifejackets—in the open sea for four foodless, waterless days. Fires had trapped many of the crewmen and they went down with the cruiser. Gave Order to Navigator Rushing from his sea cabin, the partly-clad skipper said he ordered the navigator, Cmdr. John Hopkins Janney, Baltimore, Md., who later was lost: "For God's sake, make certain the contact report get out. Say we've been torpedoed, our position is—, and we are sinking rapidly and need immediate assistance."

General Marshall Will Have Broad Powers in China

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Arriving with broad powers, Gen. George C. Marshall sped preparations today for a quick flight to China as his predecessor's explosive resignation headed for an airing on Capitol Hill.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told reporters he plans to call both Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes before a closed door session, perhaps Monday.

The purpose, Connally said, will be an informal discussion of Hurley's contention that he had been crossed up as ambassador to China by subordinates both in the State Department and at Chungking.

Connally stressed, however, that he has no intention of ordering any such full-dress hearing as Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) demanded in a bitter senate speech yesterday. This would have involved just about everything connected with the State Department, the Atlantic Charter and the Potsdam Big Three agreement.

It appeared, meanwhile, that Marshall might get off for Chungking some time today.

As personal representative of President Truman and retaining his five-star, general of the army rank, Marshall will be able to exercise virtually unlimited authority over American personnel, both military and diplomatic.

The former army chief of staff has the absolute backing of Mr. Truman, and observers agree that anyone who fails to do what Marshall seriously wants done might very well find himself packing his bags for home.

Hurley's fairly worded resignation echoed in both wings of the capitol yesterday, climaxed by Wherry's speech in the senate.

The Nebraska told his colleagues that the action of some foreign service personnel in the Far East as described by Hurley "skirts the very edge of treason itself."

He referred, Wherry said, to Hurley's contention that "the professional foreign service men sided with the Chinese communist-aided party and the Imperialist bloc of nations whose policy it was to keep China divided against herself."

McClosky, of Albany. The Rev. Herbert Greenland, pastor of the Methodist Church will officiate at the rites.

The funeral of Timothy J. Donovan, was held from his late residence, 578 Delaware avenue, Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock and at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock, where a solemn Mass of requiem was offered, by the Right Rev. Monsignor Stephen P. Connolly, P. R. with the Rev. John J. Drow as deacon and the Rev. John A. Flaherty as sub-deacon. In the chancel were the Very Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury, P. R. V. F., the Rev. Michael J. Larkin, the Rev. William J. McDonald, the Rev. John D. Simmons and the Rev. Michael O'Brien. The children's choir of the church sang.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our relatives, friends and neighbors for their sympathy and acts of kindness extended during our recent bereavement in the death of our father, Christof Durr.

V.F.W. Post Will Be Instituted in Warwick on Dec. 2

Warwick Valley Post, 4662, V. F. W., will be instituted on Sunday, December 2, at 3 p. m. in the American Legion Hall in Warwick.

The post will be instituted by Abraham M. Lipgar, commander of Hudson Valley Counties Council, V. F. W., who has been authorized to act as the instituting officer by Merritt W. Baldwin, department commander of New York state.

The Counties Council meeting will also be held at Warwick the same day. Members of all local posts of the V. F. W. will be welcomed at the meeting.

In addition to the Warwick Post, six other posts are in process of formation in Hudson valley counties. Commander Lipgar said this morning. In addition to a post in Saugerties, there will be three in Sullivan county and two in Orange county.

The responses to Mass, under the direction of Theodore Riccio, organist. The church was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends, who came to pay hallow tribute by assisting at the requiem. During the time the remains reposed in the home, hundreds of friends came to offer their sympathy and condolence to the bereaved family. The clergy visiting the home were Monsignor Connolly and Drury, Fathers McDonald, Carey, Simmons, Brown, Drew and O'Brien. Tuesday evening St. Mary's Holy Name Society, led by President Fred Miller, assembled at the home and assisted Father Drew, in the recitation of the Rosary. The members of the Kingston High School faculty and the maintenance department of the school called to pay their respects. The casket was banked on all sides with beautiful flowers and near, were dozens of spiritual bouquets, evidence of the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The casket bearers were James Moran, Edward Abernethy, Joseph Zeeh, Bernard Feeney, John Heybruck and Thomas Connolly. The burial was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery where the final absolution and blessing were given by Monsignor Connolly, assisted by Fathers McDonald and Drew.

The phrase was contained in a fortnightly summary issued by the Office of Naval Intelligence on that date. It was put in the record of the Pearl Harbor Committee.

Noting that Saboru Kuruusu was flying to Washington as a special peace envoy, the summary commented that "no one apparently expects his mission to succeed, the envoy himself reportedly expressing extreme pessimism."

"American spokesmen, including Secretary Knox, have indicated that the United States will not budge from her position," it was added.

The document, circulated among high naval officials, said the Japanese combined fleet was reported to be "nearly in full force in the Inland Sea."

The same publication, in an issue two weeks earlier, had said: "The Japanese navy now, according to the navy department's spokesman, is ready for any immediate eventuality. Mobilization plans have been carried out, including not only changes in commands but the increase of ships' crews to full war complement."

Nearly all the gold produced in the United States comes from five western states—Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada and South Dakota.

Marshall Warning Told to Congress

States and Great Britain brought this warning from Stark: "You will take due precautions including such preparatory deployment as will not disclose strategic intention nor constitute action against Japan."

On November 24, four days after Japan had delivered a note which former Secretary of State Hull has said contained extreme demands, Stark sent this message to Kimmel, Admiral Thomas C. Hart, Asiatic Fleet Commander, and others.

"Chances of favorable outcome of negotiations with Japan very doubtful. This situation coupled with statements of Japanese government and movement their naval and military forces indicate in our opinion that a surprise aggressive movement in any direction, including attack on Philippines or Guam, is a possibility."

Other Instructions
The Adjutant General's Office instructed Short November 26 to send two planes to photograph the Japanese naval base at Truk in the Caroline Islands and Jultut in the Marshalls. The pilots were to be instructed that if attacked by Japanese planes they were to "use all means in their power for self-preservation." The message said the planes must be equipped with ammunition. The flight was never made.

On November 27, one day after Hull delivered his ten-point note to the Japanese, Marshall sent a message to Short and to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines saying that "negotiations with Japan appear to be terminated."

He added "Japanese future action unpredictable but hostile action possible at any moment."

"If hostilities cannot be avoided," his message continued, "the United States desires that Japan commit the first overt act."

In reply to Marshall's telegram, MacArthur replied that "reconnaissance has been extended and intensified in conjunction with the navy."

Short reported briefly November 28 that his department was "alerted to prevent sabotage" and that there was "liaison with navy."

The next day Short sent a long message to Marshall in which he told of precautions taken to prevent subversive activities and to protect army and civilian installations. He ended the report with the note that "relations with F. B. I. and other federal and territorial officials are and have been cordial and mutual cooperation has been given on all pertinent matters."

Navy Spoke of Jap Crisis Three Weeks Before December 7

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The navy spoke of "the approaching crisis in United States-Japanese relations" as early as November 15, 1941, congressional investigators heard today.

The phrase was contained in a fortnightly summary issued by the Office of Naval Intelligence on that date. It was put in the record of the Pearl Harbor Committee.

Noting that Saboru Kuruusu was flying to Washington as a special peace envoy, the summary commented that "no one apparently expects his mission to succeed, the envoy himself reportedly expressing extreme pessimism."

"American spokesmen, including Secretary Knox, have indicated that the United States will not budge from her position," it was added.

Captain O'Connor Is Found in River

Chief of Naval Surgery Had Summer Home at Eagle's Nest

Captain Harry Allen Durfee O'Connor, 50, chief of surgery at the Naval Hospital, Flushing and Washington avenues, Brooklyn, from early 1941 through January, 1945, was found floating in the middle of the East river at 54th street, New York, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Captain O'Connor had a summer home at Eagle's Nest, near Hurley, and was well known in this section.

He was seen by his wife, Helen, an hour previous when he left their temporary home at 139 East 66th street, for his usual morning walk. Dr. Robert C. Fisher, assistant medical examiner, performed a partial autopsy and reported that Captain O'Connor had died from "asphyxia by submersion, circumstances undetermined pending investigation."

"There was no reason for him to do anything, if he did," Detective Hugh T. Fox of the East 51st street squad, quoted his wife as saying. "My husband was in good health, he wasn't worried over money matters and he had no family trouble," she added. "Our big trouble was finding an apartment."

Captain O'Connor, who went on terminal leave last September 20, was first seen floating down the river by P.E.C. Niels Neustrop, of 70th street.

The captain was fully dressed in civilian clothes and his wrist watch was still running when he was removed from the water. There was $30 in his wallet and there were no obvious marks of violence, according to the police.

British Soldier Finds His Sister in Boston

Boston, Nov. 29 (AP)—A British soldier of Irish extraction rang 2,015 doorbells—by his own count—yesterday looking for his sister, Mary.

"Then, he said, he decided to call upon the Leprechauns—those knowing little faeries of Irish mythology—to aid him in the search."

Gunner Maurice Kennedy, recently released after two and one-half years in a Japanese prison camp, is convinced they did.

He finally received a call from a woman who said she knew a Mary Kennedy who might be his sister. Would he whistle his sister's favorite tune over the telephone?

He did. It was: "Come back to Erin." Mary recognized the way he piped it, Maurice said, and they were reunited.

Maurice had not seen Mary for 15 years. She came here intent on becoming an actress, but became a maid instead. He lost track of her after he entered the army and had not heard from her for four years.

Kennedy arrived in Vancouver, B. C., recently and obtained a five days leave to hunt for his sister. He had been in the British Army since 1939. The home was in Dingle, County Kerry, Eire.

Army Vets Swell Enlistments 1,676 In 3-State Area

Soldiers Take Advantage of Opportunity of Holding Grades in Final Week

New York, Nov. 29—Army veterans, now in civilian life, flocking to rejoin the Army prior to the November 21st deadline in order to hold the grades with which they were discharged, swelled enlistments in New York, New Jersey and Delaware to 1,676 for the week ending November 21, the largest single week's figure since the current recruiting campaign began U. S. Army Recruiting Service headquarters for the Second Service Command announces.

Seven hundred and twenty-eight Army of the United States veterans, the largest number yet to enlist in one week, and 514 Regular Army Veterans, the second largest number for a similar period, signed up. The remaining 434 were original enlistees, also a top week's figure.

Service in overseas theatres attracted 694 men, reflecting the increasing desire on the part of enlistees for travel. The European theater continued to have first call, with 536 men selecting that area. Ninety-four men signed up for the Pacific theater, and 47 for the Caribbean Defense Command.

In the command districts, Southern New York maintained the lead with 488 men. Northern New York was next with 353 and New Jersey-Delaware third with 217. Posts, camps and stations in the command added 618 to the total.

Price's Report May Bring Changes In American Rule

point at which it would help to make Germany self-sustaining by providing exports to match needed imports.

Mr. Truman transmitted the report to the secretaries of state, war and navy yesterday with a recommendation that they give it careful consideration with a view to taking joint action. He called Price, former director of censorship, "an able and experienced observer."

Price, in his 5,000-word report, credited the military under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower with having done an excellent job so far. But he said the time has come now when the initial military objectives of rendering Germany harmless have been achieved and decisions must be made on more basic, long-range goals.

In discussing the form of civilian government he said should succeed the military in Germany no earlier than June 1, Price said: "An ideal choice would be an army officer of proven judgment and administrative ability."

Price did not mention any names, but his presentation of a pattern for the civilian administrator stirred speculation over these men:

Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, just arrived in Germany as successor to Eisenhower in the military governor's post.

Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott who commanded the 5th Army in Italy and then succeeded Gen. George Patton in command of the Third Army.

Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the deputy military governor in the American zone.

The World Today

By DEWITT MacKENZIE (A.P. World Traveler)

London, Nov. 29—This column ventured the prediction weeks ago that the coming year would largely determine whether we are to have real peace or whether mankind is to commit atomic hara-kiri.

The signs have seemed to me to indicate that in this general period (for I'm not trying to pin the thing down to an exact length of time) we shall encounter the paramount international problem upon which peace hinges, among these, of course, are the sharp and dangerous differences which have arisen among the Big Three, whose solidarity is synonymous with peace and security.

Now the corollary to this is that the quicker the new United Nations peace organization gets into action to help settle the difficulties, the better will be our chances of avoiding further conflict. With that thought in mind I've been making inquiries in circles of the preparatory commission which is getting things set for the meeting of the security organization assembly, and have found ready agreement with this thesis. It is good to be able to report that there is a sense of urgency to get the organization going. Present plans anticipate the meeting of the general assembly the first week in January, and with this as an objective the preparatory commission has set out to finish its work by Christmas.

This means that our whole peace organization will be functioning in a little more than a month if things move as well as expected. Then the world's major problems, both political and economic, can come before the United Nations. Indeed, I heard it suggested yesterday that there might be an international trade conference by June.

One of the earliest questions to be dealt with by the assembly will be the control of atomic energy—a subject which is causing international heart-burnings that are smoldering but none the less dangerous. However, there is a wide range of problems which can come before the assembly, for any issue which threatens international tranquility is grist for the peace said, "is got the idea across that these kids have learned a lot about responsibility and property values. They've learned how to get along with people, and they know how to organize and do a job."

"They'll do their part. I want to make sure that each community will do its part, too."

Johnson, who wears (A) the Congressional Medal of Honor for leading the first low level flight on the Ploesti oil fields, and (B) a brightly mustache that looks like a retired hair brush, says his job is vital, but interesting.

For instance: Thirty days after a man leaves the air force he gets a letter asking him if all is going well, and does he have any problem? One fellow wrote back and said, yes, he did. It seems he had become a hunter and had bought a couple of Beagles; did anyone know where he could get a box of shotgun shells?

Johnson had an answer for that one. No.
